MARIOM SHUTS OUT PRINCETON INDIANS TO BE DEFEATED SATURDAY

Marion Wins Two Shut-out Games From Greatest Amateur Ball Players In Kentucky and Illinois--Cooperrider and Kraft Best Amateur Pitchers In the Game.

ANSWER TO THE GREAT ARTICLE OF THE MORGANFIELD SUN'S FAN.

The two games with Princeton Thursday and Friday, resulted in each team winning one.

Thursday's game was about the fastest and prettiest ever seen here. Princeton could do nothing with Cooperrider's delivery, and were shut out completely, having only two hits and but one man reaching third.

This was Cooperrider's first game for Marion here, and he certainly made good. There is no pitcher ever seen in the town who can equal him. He has everything speed, curves, control and a fine head for the game. The double play he and Kraft pulled off in the first was a corker.

The diamond was rather muddy and slippery from rain, but in spite of this the game was well played, only three errors being chalked up against each side. All three of Marion's errors were due to the slippery ground between second and third; one hit off Cooperrider would have been an easy out except that Lamb could not get a start after it. Cooperrider had seven chances, Kraft eight, and Lamb six, all without an error. Franks distinguished himself both at the bat and in the field. He was up four times, got two hits and a nice sacrifice; the only fly knocked his way he caught after a hard run. Goldnamer made a spectacular catch of Guess' hard liner in the fourth, but rather spoiled it in the next inning by muffing an easy fly which really belonged to Stevens. Mark was the only one who could touch Cooperrider, making both of Princeton's hits.

Marion scored in the sixth when Rochester singled, was sacrificed to second by Lamb, took third on Frank's hit and was sacrificed home by Davis. In the seventh, Kraft and Perryman singled, but Cooperrider and Dixon struck out, with two down, Kraft then took the first chance to steal third, the ball was thrown to Moore ahead of him, but Kraft came with such force as to knock it out of Moore's hands; the ball only went a short distance, but Kraft sprinted for home, and slid in safely under Block just as the ball reached the latter. It was the nerviest and headiest piece of base running seen here in many a day, and set the crowd wild. This ended the run-getting. Summary.

Marion 10, Harrisburg, Ill., 0.

Harrisburg, Ill., considered a strong team, was completely out-classed by Marion Tuesday, and the home team won with ease. Backed up by almost perfect support, Cooperrider pitched his way to another clean-cut victory. Only two hits were made off him, not a Harrisburg player reached third, and only three got as far as second. The visitors never looked in the least bit dangerous, and in fact, had not the slightest chance. From the time that Watt Lamb, second man up in the first inning for Marion, hit the first ball pitched to him for a home run drive clear to the left hand corner of the field the result was never in doubt. Marion made fifteen hits, five of them being for two bases, and one home run. Grey was knocked out of the box in the sixth, and Beal, who took his place, could not stop the bombardment. The game, though one-sided, was an interesting one, the fielding being fast and brilliant in nearly all cases. Three errors catches served to liven things up. Frederick, in left field for Harrisburg, made a beautiful running catch of what seemed a clean double from Gray Rochebarts bat in the third, and in the fifth Brashears on third made a one handed catch of a hot liner from Guess that also brought applause from the crowd. The really pretty play was made by Rochester on the last ball pitched, with two down in the ninth, Frederick put a hot liner high over second that looked good for one base, at least. Rochester however, was right after it, made a sideways running jump high in the air, and the ball stuck in his gloved hand, retiring the side. It was the best catch of the season on Marion's grounds, discounting the star catch of Goldnamer in the first Princeton game. Watt Lamb, Franks, Kraft, Perryman, and Cooperrider all starred at the bat, the last four each batting over .500. Lamb's home run started the fun, and his double in the sixth drove in two runs.

GREAT ARTICLE BY THE MORGANFIELD SUN'S FAN!

It is plain that the same gentleman who wrote up the Marion--Morganfield

Judge Thomas J. Nunn

Visiting Madisonville.

Judge Thomas J. Nunn, of the Court of Appeals, is spending a few days in the city with friends and will probably be here until about the middle of next week.

Judge Nunn was formerly circuit judge of the Sixth judicial district, which includes the counties of Caldwell, Crittenden, Livingston and Hopkins. He was elected to the higher tribunal while serving as circuit judge.

Judge Nunn is one of the most popular judges that ever represented this district as a member of the highest court in the state, and is a candidate for re-election. So far no opposition has developed and he will likely be re-nominated without opposition.—Madisonville Hostler.

Senator Bradley, who is author of the amendment has been persistent in his efforts to have the tax removed and at last succeeded in prevailing upon Senator Aldrich and other members of the finance committee to acquiesce in his proposition.

As the tariff bill passed the house, it carried a similar provision and there is very little doubt that when the bill shall become a law it will contain a practical repeal of the present tax on "chand" tobacco.

The other provision of the tobacco schedule were retained. They impose a tax of 8 cents a pound on chewing and smoking and snuff, of $3 on cigars weighing more than three pounds per thousand; with increases for high grade cigars running up to $9 per thousand, of 75 cents on cigars weighing three or less per thousand; $3.60 on cigarettes weighing more than three pounds per thousand and $1.25 on cigarettes of not more than three pounds per thousand.

draw an automatic pistol. Then began an even fiercer fight for the pistol.

In the meantime Mrs. Staber was standing in the doorway, screaming, not heeding her husband's attempts to pull her into the room. Young Staber succeeded in keeping the muzzle of the burglar's gun away from him but it was nevertheless discharged. Two shots went wild, the third cut the draw string on his pajamas, set the cloth on fire and though not wounding him, killed his mother. Just as young Staber finally got control of the pistol the burglar wrench loose, Staber chased him down the stairs, firing as he ran. Two shots evidently took effect but the last two cartridges misfired and the burglars temporarily escaped.

All will remember how the candidates for the nomination dropped out one by one until the field was left to Mr. Haskell and Lee Crue.

All will remember how the campaign grew in bitterness as the primary approached and through it all Lee Crue kept his head and his temper and when the battle of the ballots was over and Mr. Haskell had won by a small majority, how Lee Crue, during the subsequent campaign, visited every part of the state doing all in his power to make Mr. Haskell's nomination unanimous.

It takes a really great man to turn from the gloom of defeat and use his ability and influence for the election of his successful rival.

But Lee Crue did it, with all his might, where most men would have given but a half-hearted support, if they had not openly worked for the candidate's defeat.

Lee Crue's friends have never given up the belief that he is the logical man to succeed Mr. Haskell for governor, and that he would be an ideal man for the position.

We do not know that Lee Crue is a candidate for the governorship, but we do know that he is more widely and favorably known than any other private citizen of the state and that the Democracy could not present a stronger man for the position of governor of Oklahoma. —Ronfrow's Record, Alva, Ok., July 2, 1909.

Better Train Service For Marion.

Sturgis, Marion and Princeton are making vigorous protests against the present train service which is afforded by the Illinois Central. They cannot come up the road to transact business without having to turn around almost as soon as they arrive and hike for the depot again—either that or remain over night or go down to Morganfield and take a long drive.

There have been murmurings coming out of Sturgis, Marion and Princeton for some time, but the feeling has now crystallized into a formal objection and a demand for better train service.

The matter has been taken up at this end of the line as it is just as unsatisfactory to people here who have business to transact with residents at Sturgis, Marion and Princeton. Formal complaint has been filed with Secretary Charles T. W. Argue, who has written a letter to the Illinois Central asking for better train service. Agent Waltz has replied that the matter is now under consideration by his company.

Wherever Mr. Crue went while campaigning through the twin territories, he won hosts of friends. Tall of stature, modest and unassuming, with a clear head and kind heart, his speeches were models of clear and simple language in which questions of interest to the new state were discussed. All of his speeches were free from that personal invective that so frequently marks the ablest efforts of partisan orators, and although his arguments were presented ably and fearlessly from a Democ-ocratic standpoint, he treated the opposition in such a manifest spirit of fairness that the Republicans frequently made the remark, "Well, if we have to have a Democratic governor, I would rather it was Lee Crue than any of them I have heard."

All will remember how the candidates for the nomination dropped out one by one until the field was left to Mr. Haskell and Lee Crue.

All will remember how the campaign grew in bitterness as the primary approached and through it all Lee Crue kept his head and his temper and when the battle of the ballots was over and Mr. Haskell had won by a small majority, how Lee Crue, during the subsequent campaign, visited every part of the state doing all in his power to make Mr. Haskell's nomination unanimous.

Better Train Service For Marion.

Hon. H. V. McChesney Ex-Secretary of State, now of Frankfort, came down last Saturday to spend a few days with his wife and babies, who are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Presnell, at their beautiful home on Court street.

Judge J. M. Davis came into town proximity of a horse last Saturday which handed him one on the left foot and he is suffering severely as a result. He has been foaming so long with the hybrid strain that he does not know when he comes in contact with bloodied stock.

The many friends of Hon. Chas. R. Stevens will regret to learn of the continued illness of his wife, which is preventing him from getting out among the boys in the trenches in his interest for County Judge. He will see you as soon as he can get away and you should not be too quick in forming your opinion. The Banner joins the hopes of Mrs. Stevens' many friends in wishing her a speedy recovery.

The many friends of Hon. Chas. R. Stevens will regret to learn of the continued illness of his wife, which is preventing him from getting out among the boys in the trenches in his interest for County Judge. He will see you as soon as he can get away and you should not be too quick in forming your opinion. The Banner joins the hopes of Mrs. Stevens' many friends in wishing her a speedy recovery.

NELLIE LOVE.

"I know not when my Lord may come, At eight or noonday fair."

At the noonday of life, and in the morning of her usefulness, the summons came for Nellie Love, who quietly passed from our midst July 10, 1909.

"He giveth his loved ones sleep. He giveth it—oh, so gently!—as a mother will hush to rest.

The babe that softly pillows so tenderly on her breast."

Whereas, it has been the will of our all-wise Heavenly Father to remove from this earthly sphere, one so dearly beloved by all, and a member of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, therefore be it resolved:

1. That while we try to bow to the will of God in humble submission, we feel that the loss of this dear friend is irreparable to the society, to the church and to the community at large.

2. That we thank God for the beautiful life as exemplified in her daily walk and conversation, in her quiet but ceaseless activities in the church, and in a certain purity and dignity of thought and speech which marked her demeanor. "Though dead, she yet speaketh."

3. That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to her bereaved parents and sister.

"Some day with tearless eyes we'll see And then, ah, then, we'll understand."

Mrs. H. K. Woods, Pres.

The Recital.

The recital given Tuesday evening at the Auditorium by Misses Mabel Yandell and Gwendolene Haynes was a delightful treat, refreshing in its variety, pleasing to the lovers of the arts and excellent in rendition.

I was quite a nice idea and an original one for them to devote their talents and time to so worthy a cause as the Y. M. C. A. and the patrons proved their appreciation of the fair entertainers, as well as the cause to which the proceeds were so generously devoted.

The program as published last week was choice in instrumental selections, which gave pleasure to her hearers and gave many of them their first chance to enjoy her playing since her return from Sayre.

Miss Yandell, who is also a Sayre girl, was the feature of the evening in vocal solos, which she rendered in tones as rich, sweet and clear as a bird. Her friends, who had expected much of her, were not disappointed in the least.

The High School chorus, composed of the following sweet voiced girls, added greatly to the pleasure of the evening: Misses Pearl Doss, Anna Haynes, Mary Coffield, Mabel Yandell, Froda Pickens, Nellie Sutherland, Beulah Conyer.

The recitation by Miss Lena Holsclaw was charming in its originality and proved that "a little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men," for she had not been on the stage a moment until it was plainly to be seen she had the hearts of her audience and that they appreciated the wonderful talent of the petite blonde beauty before them. Miss Holsclaw's friends look forward to a brilliant future for her, and hope she may be allowed to develop and cultivate a talent so distinctly her own and thus enable her to give pleasure for many years to come to those who love this art.

NOTED EDUCATOR HERE.

Prof. John H. Jenkins, of Zambezi, Phillipine Island, was the guest of Mrs. J. S. Ainsworth this week. In the visit to Marion of Prof. Jenkins few of our people were aware that one of the most noted educators of the times was the city's guest.

Prof. Jenkins graduated 20 years ago from the Southern Illinois Normal University, and has devoted his life to educational matters. His ability was recognized when he was appointed by the United States government authorities as Provincial superintendent of the Phillipines Islands, where he has had constructed several immense High School buildings at a cost of $30,000 each. He is now on a five months' leave of absence, three of which is necessary to make the trip from the Phillipines, only two months being left him to visit relatives and old boyhood friends in and near Cave-in-Rock. On all matters pertaining to the Phillipines, he is a most interesting talker.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Dupuy have returned from Brunswick, Missouri, where they went to accompany the remains of Mrs. Dupuy's mother.

W. G. Jenkins, of Cave-in-Rock, was in the city this week the guest of his daughter, Mrs. J. S. Ainsworth.

Rev. B. L. Yates, of Cadiz, is here the guest of relatives. He has just returned from Russellville, Ill., where he assisted Rev. Humphreys in a meeting.

Fishing Prohibited.

The water supply lake of this company has been stocked with black bass by the U. S. Government, and no fishing will be allowed in this lake. Parents will be held responsible for their children. Please keep them away and avoid trouble.

ALL WRONG.

The Backache is Made by Many Marion Citizens.
Don't mistake the cause of backache.

To be cured you must know the cause.

It is wrong to imagine relief is cure.

Backache is kidney ache.

You must cure the kidneys.

A Marion resident tells you how.
G. B. Johnson, 413 Gun St., Marion, Ky., says: "For five years I suffered from kidney complaint. It being brought on by hard work.
Whenever I caught cold it settled on my kidneys and at such times my suffering was aggravated. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and I was often forced to arise during the night on this account.
There was a dull pain in the small of my back and when I arose in the morning I felt lame and stiff. I tired easily, was nervous and also had dizzy spells. When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my attention, I prepared a box at Haynes & Taylor's drug store and after I had finished the contents I was cured. It gives me pleasure to state that time has proven the cure to be a permanent one. You are at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."

An alleged Black Hand leader who attempted to blackmail a man out of $3,000, threatening death as the penalty of refusal, has been arrested in Chiengo. It is asserted that the accused has been in close affiliation with other Black Hand groups, including the gang which brought about the murder of Lieut. Petrosino of New York, in Italy. The Troy Times declares that the authorities may be on track of an abhorrent phase of Black Handism, with the possibility of running down and apprehending the principal culprits. If so, there is hope that through adequate legal procedure a great deal may be done to stamp out a detestable form of crime.

An imperial rescript just issued in Japan enjoins on all classes in the community the need of economy and simplicity, the emperor saying that for the purpose of keeping pace with the constant progress of the world and participating in the blessings of its civilization, the development of national resources is essential. He calls on all classes to act in union, to be faithful to their callings, frugal in their domestic management, submissive to the dictates of conscience and the call of duty, frank and sincere in their manners and inured to righteous trial, eschewing all indulgences. Nothing finer in the way of an appeal to a people has ever been issued by a ruler.

The latest London health fad is drinking hot milk. It was started by the prince of Wales when he drank a large quantity of hot milk at a dinner of the Savage club. The statement is made that one glass of hot milk at bedtime will insure pleasant dreams, while a glass every half hour through the day has been known to put physical wrecks upon their feet.
It will be generally conceded that there might be worse fads than that of drinking hot milk.

Judith's Bold Venture

She Determined to Save Her Beloved Jerusalem.

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER

(Copyright, 1910, by the Author, W. B. Tolson.)

Based on Apocryphal Book of Judith Chapters 1-9.

Judith and the Book of Judith—The heroine, or Judith of the story related in the Apocryphal book bearing her name appears as an ideal type of piety. Judith S.O., of Susanna (11:20), of courage and activity (18:22). Her sympathies are from Simms (19:2), and the manner in which she refers to his cruel death often marks the conception of the clear water, which existently belongs to a period of storm and perilous conflict. The book like that of Tobit, belongs to the earliest specimens of historical fiction.
The narrative of the return of "Nehu-shadazar, king of Nineveh," (ch. 11), of the campaign of Holofernes and the deliverance of Bethulia, through the strategic and courage of the Jewish heroine contains too many and too serious differences both historical and geographical to allow of the suspicion that it is either literally true or even carefully inspired on truth. There are 16 chapters in the book.

SERMONETTE.

True piety finds expression in heroic deeds.

The heart which beats true with God fears not in the presence of the power of wickedness.

A beautiful physique and a beautiful heart form a combination which can work mightily for God among men.

Too often it is true that beauty proves a pitfall and a snare to its possessor.

It is a saying that "She is too pretty to be good," and "She is too good to be pretty."

But the commonest face and form become beautiful in the reflected light of the beautiful deeds of heart and life.

However, vanity, frivolity and wickedness are not necessary corollaries of beauty of face and form.

Adown history's pages have come the records of beautiful women who have lived beautifully and wrought magnificently, heroically.

Among such is this fair Jew ish widow, Judith.

The grace and beauty of the visible were but the beautiful setting for the purity of heart and lofty ideals of the life within.

She knew God and delighted to serve him, and the beauty and grace with which God had endowed her, instead of turning her heart from him, became the blessed instrument of deliverance to her beloved city.

Whether the story is history or only fiction, this fact remains that womanhood is here exalted, and Judith becomes the expression of all that is purest, most sublime and heroic.

It is such characters as this that the world needs in every age. Judith shines like a rare gem from out a dark background. Blessed is her memory.
And blessed is the memory of every true woman who in the hour of great need, whether in the national life or the life of the home, rises heroically and dedicates her all for the help and salvation of others.

Beauty that is only skin deep is perilous. Beauty which reaches to the inner heart and life is the beauty which proves a benediction upon the world.
Truly, the value of a good woman is far above rubies.

THE STORY.

WE THIN five days!" Judith repeated the words over and over again to herself, and with each repetition the terror of the situation grew upon her.

Holofernes, the powerful general of the great king Nebuchadnezzar, had many months before surrounded the city of Bethulia, and had cut off food supplies and water, until now the city is in sore straits, and at last the governor and officials had given their word that if relief did not come within five days the gates of the city would be opened and they would go forth to become a spoil and a prey to Holofernes and his army.

"Within five days!"

"Nay," exclaimed Judith, her dainty sandaled foot coming with a sudden emphasis to the ground. "Nay, it must not be."

Then calling her maid she directed that Ochs, Chabris and Chamis, the men in authority in the city, be summoned to her presence. And with no little wonder on their part they beyond, for the beauty and virtue of Judith were known to all in the city, and her influence was great, not only among the poor to whom she ministered, but among the rich and powerful as well. Something over three years before her husband had been suddenly stricken while overseeing his workmen during barley harvest, and from that time she had not ceased to mourn for him, and delighted to use the gold and silver and the rich estates which he had left her for the blessing of those about her, for she was a devout woman and sought with all her heart to serve the Lord her God. So when this report had reached her ears that the governor of the city had agreed to surrender the city to the enemy she lifted her heart to God in prayer, knowing that he could deliver. And when Ochs, Cha-bris and Chabris prepared before her she said:

"Who are ye that have tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among the children of men? And now try the Lord Almighty, but ye shall never know anything. For ye cannot find the depth of the heart of man, neither can ye perceive the things that he thinketh. Then how can ye search our God, that hath made all these things, and know his mind, or comprehend his purpose?" Nay, my brethren, provoke not our God to anger. For if he will not help us within these five days, he hath power to defend us when he will, even every day, or to destroy us before our enemy. Let us wait for salvation of him, and call upon him to help us.

"All that thou hast spoken with a good heart, and there is none that may gainsay thy words for this is not the thirtieth day wherein thy wisdom is manifested, but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thy understanding, because the disposition of thine heart is good, responsible, unfeignedly. But the people were very thirsty, and compelled us to do unto them as we have spoken.
And this oath which we have spoken unto them, saying that if deliverance came not within five days that then we would open the gates of the city and surrender to our enemies this oath we cannot break. Therefore, pray thou for us, because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord will send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more."

"Hear me, ye rulers of the city exclaimed Judith, as a sudden resolve formed within her heart, "for I will do a thing which shall go throughout all generations to the children of our nation. Ye shall stand this night in the gate and I will go forth with my waiting maid, and within the five days that ye have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord will visit Israel by mine hand."

"Nay," she exclaimed, raising her hand with an emphatic gesture, "In quire not ye of mine act for I will not declare it unto you till the things be finished that I do."

The puzzled looks upon the faces of the men before her gave place to one of confident expectancy as she finished speaking, and Ochs said:

"Go in peace, Judith, and the Lord God be before thee to take vengeance on our enemies."

Having thus spoken he with the other princes bowed themselves out and returned to their homes.

Then Judith fell upon her face and put ashes upon her head, and unbroided the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed, and about the time of the evening sacrifice in the temple at Jerusalem and the burning of incense she lifted her voice in prayer and cried.

"Oh, Lord God of my father Rimon behold the Assyrians are multiplied in their power. They are exalted with horse and man. They glory in the strength of their footmen. They trust

The prayer ended, peace and confidence came to her heart, that confidence which comes from inner faith that God has heard and will answer.
She arose and, calling her maid, she went down into the house wherein she had abode during the glad season of the fast days. And she put off the sackcloth which she had on and laid aside the garments of her widowhood.
And when she had bathed she anointed herself with precious ointment and braided the hair of her head, and put thereon most gorgeous raiment wherewith also she was clad during the life of her husband, Minnesota. And she put mandil upon her feet and put about her her bracelets and her chain and her rings and her earrings, and all her ornaments, and she decked herself bravely, to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.

Then calling her maid she commanded her that she should bring a bottle of wine and a cruse of oil, and fill a bag with parched corn, and lumps of figs, and with fine bread.

Thus adorned and accompanied by her maid, laden with the provisions for their journey, they set forth and came to the gate of the city, where, according to appointment, she found Ochs and the other princes of the city standing. And when they saw her, that her countenance was altered and her apparel changed, they wondered at her beauty very greatly and said unto her:

"The God of our fathers give thee favor and accomplish thine enterprise to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem."

And following this benediction upon this lovely and devout woman they led upon their faces and worshipped God.

"Command that the gates be opened unto me," she directed, simply.

And when they had done so Judith passed out, and her maid with her.
And the men of the city looked after her until she had gone down the mountain. Then, with straining eyes they watched her cross the valley and last fade from view into the haze mist of the far side of the deep valley.

"She is gone," they said with reverent upward look. "There is naught we can do but wait."

WELLS IN THE DESERT

By REV. A. C. DIXON, D. D.,
Pastor of the Chicago Ave. Moody's Church, Chicago.

"Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee, in whose heart are the high ways, who passeth through the valley of Babel, make it a well."

The desert usually lacks but one thing to make it a garden in summer, sometimes it has light heat and often very fertile soil.

Water is the one need. And frequently there is abundance of water a few feet beneath the surface rivers that flow through their hidden channels.

The thirsty traveler has only to dig deep enough and he will find the cool, refreshing stream.

Christians come to desert valleys of tears in their experience and there is a process by which the wells may be made and their thirst quenched.

The secret is in the words "Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee, in whose heart are the high ways."

No human strength can dig such a well. It is reliance upon the strength of God that makes a well.

Sin wastes and withers every flower and shrub. After the master of Abel the ground refused to bring forth its fruits for Cain, and it is to that time was a prosperous father. Sin is a desert like this. A prosperous merchant forges the name of his rich neighbors to just one of his, his reputation for honesty is lost and his business goes to pieces. Sin has made a desert for him. The home which is a very garden of beauty is turned into a desert by sin. A life of sin is the desert of spiritual life.

"A desert of sinners," said Christ.

"Sin is a well

ODD DIET TURNS COWS TO RUBBER

STRANGE CHANGE COMES OVER CATTLE AS RESULT OF CRAZE

REMARKABLE MEXICAN STORY

Bovine Creatures Found Bouncing Around Pasture—Are Fed Sulphur to Vulcanize Them, with Fatal Effects.

Mexico City.—The Mexican Herald, which recently published a story about goats getting drunk on the marihuana plant and jumping about wildly and refusing to eat, has found another one that beats the goats. Here it is:

That he is not the only cattle man since the days of Lebanon and the latter's shrewd son-in-law, Jacob, who has been cheated out of his cattle by striped sticks and bewitched herbs was brought to the attention of Mr. Maldonado of Celaya recently by a guest at the Dos Mundos hotel.

Mr. Maldonado, it will be remembered, is the owner of a herd of goats near Celaya which he fears losing through the latter taking to a marihuana diet.

"Your trouble is small," said Pedro Flores of Morelia, Coahuila. "I am modest, though one-time prosperous, cattle man and own some of the finest cows in northern Coahuila. It was I who invented the idea of placing rennet in the milk cans on loading them on the train at Morelia and delivering the product at Monterrey and Saltillo in the form of fresh cheese—the jolting of the train saved the enormous expense of churning and shaking the milk necessary to produce cheese and thus overpay for transportation.

"All went very merrily and I was paying the last installment on my daughter's new piano when the guayule habit came on. I rented a field where guayule appeared to have got a good start and placed some of my best cows in it to pasture.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though we urgent dealer may thereby make little bigger profit.

Ingredients printed on wrapper.

NOTICE.

Preaching again at 8 p. m.

Miss Nellie Love Dead.

Miss Nellie Love, the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Love, died of tuberculosis of the lungs at her home on north Main street Saturday afternoon. Her death was a great shock to her many friends and to her family, as well, for although she was known to be gradually sinking, no one expected so sudden a termination of her illness.

Her remains were taken to Greenville, Ky., where the family has a burial lot and where her relatives are buried. Rev. and Mrs. Love were accompanied by Rev. J. B. Adams and Lieutenant C. V. Franks. They left on the 11 o'clock train Sunday. The interment taking place Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Adams assisting the local pastor.

Cemetery Matters.

The following is a list of lot owners who have paid for the care of their lots since June 9th.

Ora E. Hodges, H. A. Hodges, Mrs. Electra Frisbee, Miss Mary Cameron, S. K. Breeding, Lillie Cook, Mrs. A. D. McFee, C. E. Weidom, Mrs. Albert Weldon, W. A. Blackburn, T. H. Cochran, Levi Cook, G. E. Boston, T. J. Yandell, H. A. Haynes, J. B. Champion, J. F. Price, Mrs. A. Williams, Mrs. H. M. Cook, G. B. Crawford, J. W. Bigham, Dr. F. W. Nunn, Mrs. E. H. Jones, Frank Dodge, E. T. Franks, Ed Cook, John Weldon, A. H. McNeely, Mrs. Eva Gugenheim, Hugh Hurley, W. D. Haynes, Mrs. Mollie J. Travis, J. H. Orme and J. B. Hubbard.

If your lot is not being cared for, it is because you have not paid for the work. Do not think hard of the Committee for this. We find we have to make this rule. We want to clean every lot in the cemetery, and make it look as it should, but we can't do this without your help. If you have not paid, do so at once. We appreciate the promptness and liberality of the majority of lot owners. There is still a great deal to be done in the cemetery to finish walks and drives. We solicit your help.

Graveyard Notice.

All persons interested in the Hurricane graveyard, will please meet there on the 22nd, and 23rd, for the purpose of cleaning same. All are requested to bring hoe, shovel and rake and be prepared to spend two days.

J. T. TERRY.

Birthday Celebration.

Miss Geneva Daniel celebrated her eleventh birthday Monday, July 12th, at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. H. A. Cameron, by inviting her young friends to spend the afternoon and to indulge in games and while away the time. Needless to say those invited attended and never was a jollier crowd assembled.

Pefeshments were served consisting of ices, cakes, mints and confections. Among those who attended were: Misses Ruth Henson, of Madisonville, Joyce Adams, Ducale Pollard, Robbie Moore, Louis Clement, Nellie Stone, Linda Jenkins, Virginia Guess, Mary Weldon, Marion Blackburn, Edwina Weldon, Marion Blackburn, Vivian Rochester and Clara Margaret Orme.

The hours were 3 to 5 and were only too short. They all left wishing Miss Geneva many happy returns of the day.

Card of Thanks.

To my neighbors and friends who were so kind to me in the death of my darling boy, Adolph Reynolds. I desire to thank them, also Rev. Little for his comforting words at the grave. May all be richly rewarded at the day of final reckoning and may we all meet where parting is no more.

His MOTHER.

Jottings by The Way.

(by JAS. F. PRICE.)

I spent from July 6th to 9th in Sunner county, Tenn., holding missionary rallies. Portland, Oak Grove, Boiling Springs and Mt. Moriah were visited.
This is the work of our blind preacher, Rev. W. H. Perkins. From there I went to Ebenezer, near Greensburg, in central Ky., to hold a meeting. The prospects are fine for a good meeting.
It was organized by Rev. David Rice in 1797 and is one of the oldest Presbyterian churches in Kentucky. Mr.
Rice was the first Presbyterian preacher in Kentucky.

Oh! the rain! From Bowling Green to central Kentucky, has been flooded the past week. Last Wednesday two and one-half inches of rain fell in less than an hour. Green river is on a rampage. Crops are looking dismal.
Corn and tobacco in this section will not be much over a half a crop. Hay and wheat crops are good if they can be saved.

A SQUARE DEAL
AND A SQUARE MEAL.

Here's a square deal for the people who can't eat a square meal without after pain and distress.

Go to HAYNES & TAYLOR to-day and get a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na tablets: the great prescription for indigestion and stomach troubles.

Take one, or if your suffering is intense, two tablets with or after meals and at the end of ten days if you can't eat a square meal without distress go to HAYNES & TAYLOR and get your money back.

That's where the square deal comes in.
But Mi-o-na is really a stomach upholder of great merit. Every day the makers receive more than a dozen letters from grateful people which state that after losing hope Mi-o-na cured.
The quick and positive action of Mi-o-na on the stomach in case of gas, water bloat, sour stomach and heartburn is worth a lot of money to any sufferer.
E. D. Howe, Gardner, Mass., says: "I suffered from severe pains in my stomach.
I tried different remedies without relief; after using two boxes of Mi-o-na I found myself completely cured."

Mi-o-na is sold by leading druggists.
